Your current named beneficiary⁵ will remain your beneficiary in retirement. If you wish to change your beneficiary, please contact SCERA.

Your completed application can be submitted no earlier than 60 days before, and no later than, the day of your retirement. SCERA cannot accept a back-dated application.

Explanation of terms used

¹Last day of employment

This date is your last day in pay status, whether you are at work, on vacation, on a regular day off, or on sick leave. Usually this day is the last day of a pay period.

²Effective date of retirement

This is the day following your last day in paid status, and your first day as a retiree. Usually this day is the first day of a new pay period. SCERA cannot accept a back-dated application.

³Marital Status

If you choose the Unmodified Benefit Payment Option, a surviving, qualified spouse or registered domestic partner may be entitled to a continued benefit after your death, as described on the Benefit Payment Options form.

⁴Reciprocity

Mark “yes” only if you have established reciprocity with another California public retirement system.

In order to maintain the reciprocal benefits, you must retire on the same date from each system by submitting a retirement application to each system.

⁵Beneficiary

Your designated beneficiary will be the person who will receive a continuance after your death or person or persons who will receive any remaining contributions after your death. See SCERA’s Benefit Payment Options form for additional information.

SEPARATION FROM SERVICE FOLLOWING RETIREMENT SUMMARY

California retirement law and federal tax law provide specific return to work restrictions and consequences for retirees who return to work in the same public retirement system from which they receive a benefit. The following is a summary of those restrictions. If you return to work, either as an employee or an independent contractor, for a SCERA employer following your retirement from SCERA, you and the employer need to ensure your return to work complies with retirement and tax law during the entire course of your employment. Strict penalties may be imposed on a retiree who does not satisfy these requirements.

All Members

- 960 Hour Limit: Following any required break in service,¹ retirees may continue to receive their retirement benefit if their extra help employment with a SCERA employer is limited to 960 hours per fiscal year (July 1 to June 30).
- Return to Work after Receiving Unemployment Insurance: A California public agency is prohibited from appointing a retiree if, during the 12-month period before an appointment, the retiree received unemployment arising out of California public employment.

All General Members

- All General members must have a 180-day² break in service. There can be no agreement or understanding prior to retirement regarding your return to work. This restriction may be waived by the Board of Supervisors (or governing body) following your retirement date if you have special skills needed to perform work of a limited duration.
- If this requirement is not met, there is a plan violation and your retirement benefit payment will be suspended, and benefits already paid must be repaid, until there is a 180-day break in service.

General members with a retirement age of 58 to 59½

- 180-day break in service as described above.
- 60-day³ break in service following retirement, which cannot be waived.
- If the 60-day requirement is not met, pension payments are subject to a 10% early distribution penalty by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and are subject to state tax penalties until the requirement is met. The retiree is responsible for paying these penalties.

General members with a retirement age less than 58

- 180-day break in service as described above.
- 60-day break in service, which cannot be waived.
- If the 60-day requirement is not met pension payments are subject to early distribution tax penalties, as noted above, and there is a plan violation and benefits will be suspended, and benefits already paid must be repaid, until there is a 60-day break in service.

² For the 180-day break in service, the following classifications are considered Safety: Firefighter or positions that qualify as a "Public Safety Officer" pursuant to Government Code section 3301 (which includes Deputy Sheriff, Correctional Deputy, Welfare Fraud Investigator, DA Investigator, Probation Officer, and Park Ranger). All other classifications, including Human Services Juvenile Correctional Counselors, are considered General. Note: this is different than the SCERA plan classifications.

³ For the 60-day break in service, General and Safety designations follow SCERA's plan classifications.

SEPARATION FROM SERVICE FOLLOWING RETIREMENT SUMMARY

All Safety Members

- All Safety⁴ members may return to a Safety service position without a 180-day break in service.⁵
- Safety members returning to a General position must have a 180-day break in service. There can be no agreement or understanding prior to retirement regarding your return to work. This restriction may be waived by the Board of Supervisors (or governing body) following your retirement date if you have special skills needed to perform work of a limited duration.
- If this requirement is not met, there is a plan violation and benefits will be suspended, and benefits already paid must be repaid, until there is a 180-day break in service.

Safety members with a retirement age of 50 to 59½

- 180-day break in service as described above.
- 60-day⁶ break in service following retirement, which cannot be waived.
- If the 60-day requirement is not met, pension payments are subject to a 10% early distribution penalty by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and are subject to state tax penalties until the requirement is met. The retiree is responsible for paying these penalties.

Safety members with a retirement age less than 50

- 180-day break in service as described above.
- 60-day break in service, which cannot be waived.
- If the 60-day requirement is not met pension payments are subject to early distribution tax penalties, as noted above, and there is a plan violation and benefits will be suspended, and benefits already paid must be repaid, until there is a 60-day break in service.

This Summary was prepared to help retirees understand issues surrounding return to work for a SCERA employer. The information is necessarily general and not exhaustive. You should not rely solely on the information contained in this Summary. SCERA cannot provide tax advice. If you have tax questions, you may want to seek the advice of a tax professional. If there is any discrepancy between information in this Summary and legal requirements under State or Federal law, the law will govern.

⁴ For the 180-day break in service, the following classifications are considered Safety: Firefighter or positions that qualify as a “Public Safety Officer” pursuant to Government Code section 3301 (which includes Deputy Sheriff, Correctional Deputy, Welfare Fraud Investigator, DA Investigator, Probation Officer, and Park Ranger). All other classifications, including Human Services Juvenile Correctional Counselors, are considered General. Note: this is different than the SCERA plan classifications.

⁵ A “break in service” as used throughout this Summary includes the employee terminating employment with no agreement or understanding between the employer and employee that the employee will return to work, either as an employee or an independent contractor, for the employer for the appropriate number of continuous days.

⁶ For the 60-day break in service, General and Safety designations follow SCERA’s plan classifications.

Unmodified Allowance

The unmodified allowance is the highest allowance possible. This option provides that, upon your death, your qualified surviving spouse/state registered domestic partner will receive a lifetime benefit equal to 60% of the benefit you received during retirement. To qualify, you and your spouse/state registered domestic partner must be legally married/registered for at least one year prior to your retirement date and continuously until your death. If there is no qualified spouse/state registered domestic partner and there are minor children, there is a 60% continuance available to the minor children as long as they remain eligible. Eligible minor children are under age 18, or under age 22 if in school full time and unmarried. If, at the time of your death, there is no one eligible for a continuance, a lump-sum payment of remaining contributions, if any, becomes payable to your beneficiary(ies).

Option 1

This option does not provide a continuance. Upon your death, a lump sum payment of any remaining member contributions becomes payable to your beneficiary(ies). Each month the annuity portion of your benefit is deducted from your contributions until the balance of your contributions is zero. You will continue to receive your benefit, but there would no longer be a benefit payable to your beneficiary(ies). You may change your beneficiary at any time(ies).

Option 2

This option provides, upon your death, a lifetime benefit to your sole beneficiary equal to 100% of the benefit you received during retirement. In order to provide this continuance, your benefit is reduced during retirement based on your life expectancy and the life expectancy of your beneficiary. Should your beneficiary pre-decease you, you will continue to receive the same reduced amount. The Internal Revenue Code (IRC) limits the percent of continuance that can be paid to a non-spouse beneficiary. The percent allowed depends on your age at retirement, and the adjusted age difference between you and your beneficiary. The difference between the IRC limit and 100% is converted to a present value lump sum at the time of your death and paid in a lump sum to your sole beneficiary. You will not be allowed to designate a new beneficiary.

Option 3

This option provides, upon your death, a lifetime benefit to your sole beneficiary equal to 50% of the benefit you received during retirement. In order to provide this continuance, your benefit is reduced during retirement based on your life expectancy and the life expectancy of your beneficiary. Should your beneficiary pre-decease you, you will continue to receive the same reduced amount. You will not be allowed to designate a new beneficiary.

Option 4

This option allows you to name multiple beneficiaries, or to designate a specific percentage of lifetime continuance to be paid to your beneficiary(ies) after your death. In order to provide this continuance, your benefit is reduced during retirement based on your life expectancy and the life expectancy of your beneficiary(ies). Should your beneficiary pre-decease you, you will continue to receive the same reduced amount. Because of the unique nature of this option, costs associated with calculating the benefit will be borne by the member.
